

"More than Changing Lightbulbs: A Community Call to a Greener Columbus".

Thursday, October 22, 2009

6:45–8:45pm

Northeast Jewish Community Campus

150 East Granville Rd.

New Albany, Ohio 43054

The Columbus Board of Rabbis is proud to sponsor this evening of learning for our community on the issue of Jewish environmentalism. This engaging program will feature several smaller learning sessions exploring the ways in which Jewish tradition calls us to environmental action and a keynote address by Carole Caplan. As the past president of the Jewish Reconstructionist Congregation in Evanston, IL. Ms. Caplan successfully spearheaded the transformation of her congregation into the first fully green synagogue in the country.
